

The Vintage Website

User Manual

Content

- ▶ Introducing to the new website
- ▶ Computer requirements
- ▶ Turn the light on!
- ▶ Choosing favorite subjects
- ▶ Navigate through the articles
- ▶ Orient using compass

Introducing to the new website

Introducing to the new website

- ▶ The Vintage is a complete visual resource for any kind of person who wants to know the latest news around the world.
- ▶ This manual explains the many ways in which to use the site in order to get the most out of our vast resource. For all further questions, please get in touch with The Vintage team – the contact details can be found at the foot of each page.

Computer requirements

Computer requirements

Before entering the newspaper, make sure your computer meets the following requirements:

- ▶ Internet connection
- ▶ One of the following browsers: Chrome Browser, Mozilla Firefox or Opera

Welcome!

- ▶ Welcome to the Vintage newspaper! You are about to experience the excitement of reading a vintage newspaper online.
- ▶ The Vintage newspaper offers you all the articles you want on a click distance.
- ▶ We are sure you will find our newspaper easy and friendly to use. Let's get started!

Turn the light on!

- ▶ We are glad that we have you here. First of all, if you want to read the newspaper, please turn the light on.
- ▶ The lamp is in the right corner of the page and will make your page brighter after you tap on it.

Kante 'special' but not successor yet, says Makelele

But Makelele - Kante's French compatriot - is reluctant to anoint him as his successor just yet, saying Kante has not faced enough trials and tribulations in his career so far. Kante, 26, was a vital part of Antonio Conte's Chelsea side as they marched towards the Premier League title this year. With Chelsea relieved of European duty this season, having failed to qualify, Makelele said the absence of a tougher schedule had benefited Kante's energetic displays and that next season will be different.

--6/3/2017

5 things to look out for in the Champions League final

The past two Champions League finals involving Real Madrid have both concluded with the image of Cristiano Ronaldo ripping off his shirt in celebration. Ronaldo is due a signature performance in a major final; happily for Real Madrid, the indications are that he is ready to deliver one. Ronaldo didn't speak to the press in Cardiff, but he did recently explain why this season, things will be different in the Champions League finale. The meeting of an Italian and a Spanish team in the Champions League final lends itself to lazy national stereotyping, but Zinedine Zidane, a man who has a distinguished playing record in both countries, urged people to abandon such anachronistic interpretations of this magnificent Juventus team. Madrid's legacy of success has made their Champions League exploits almost a self-fulfilling prophecy: in this competition, Madrid just win. This season, though, Madrid have looked a more convincing unit, especially in their highly-functioning midfield of Toni Kroos, Casemiro and Luka Modric, and in the way Zidane has utilised all the players in his squad to bring the team to the Champions League final in peak condition. Asked if he had been having nightmares about Benzema and Ronaldo, Buffon told the press: "I have not had dreams about them, probably because I would have to dream about a lot of other Real Madrid players who can do us and me damage."

--6/3/2017

Antoine Griezmann agrees new Atletico Madrid contract - reports

According to AS, "the Griezmann soap opera is over" after "two weeks of contradictory statements" as the Frenchman has accepted Atleti's offer of an improved contract from three weeks ago.

--6/3/2017

Champions League final, Juve v Real Madrid preview: Los Blancos aim to retain title and make history

Real Madrid could become the first team to retain the Champions League title when they take on Juventus in this year's final. Well, Real could be the first team to win back-to-back Champions League titles, Gianluigi Buffon could win it for the first time aged 39, Gareth Bale might clinch glory in the city where he was born, and it's the story of an irresistible force -LRB-Real's attack-RRB- against an immovable object -LRB-Juve's defence-RRB-. - Real Madrid need one more goal to become the first team to score 500 in the UEFA Champions League, group stage to final.

--6/3/2017

TURN THE LIGHT ON

Choosing favorite subjects

Choosing favorite subjects

- ▶ Once you turn on the light, you'll see the vintage style newspaper with preferences on the first page.
- ▶ You can choose between "Health", "Money", "Sport", "Computer Security", "Science", "Movie", "Politics", "Technology" and "Travel". You mark one of them by clicking on the tiny white box in front of the subject.
- ▶ You can also select your language; you can choose between English and Romanian
- ▶ After all these settings you should click on the "Save and read" button and enjoy your newspaper

vintage News

1. CHOOSE ONE OR MORE SUBJECTS

Choose your favorite subjects:

- ☐ Health
- ☐ Money
- ☐ Sport
- ☒ Computer Security
- ☐ Science
- ☐ Movie
- ☒ Politics
- ☐ Technology
- ☐ Travel

Select your language:

English ▼

3. ENJOY YOUR NEWSPAPER

Save and Read

2. CHOOSE
LANGUAGE

Navigate through the articles

Navigate through the articles

- ▶ Now you can finally enjoy you newspaper. Your favorite articles are right in front of you.
- ▶ You can turn the page by clicking on the corner (top or bottom) of the page. You'll see that the corner bends and allow you to turn the page.

Facing hometown anger, some Republican lawmakers split from Trump on key issues

U.S. President Donald Trump's administration copies of a voluminous 2014 report describing interrogation programs, U.S. officials said on Monday. The move means it could be more difficult for the public, because documents held by Congress and government records to eventually be made public in response to requests by Sen. Richard Burr, current Republican chairman, officials said. Burr said: "I have directed my staff to retrieve copies that remain with the Executive Branch agencies, declassified and compartmented information, to protect the sensitive sources and methods of the CIA." Feinstein, the Democrat who chaired the committee, had asked that it be distributed to multiple agencies designed to make it eventually releasable under the Freedom of Information Act law. Feinstein said in a statement she was "disappointed" that Burr requested that the report's departure from the committee's normal review process, not, has the authority to erase history. In this case," she said. Sen Mark Warner, v in hall in upscale Cranford, New Jersey this week, five-term congressman Leonard Lance got a barrage of complaints from President Donald Trump. This administration is the most foul I have ever seen in my life. The stench that comes from Washington in my hometown," said Martin Carroll of Watchung, New Jersey, who gave a standing ovation. Another man, who identified himself as Alan, lambasted the "criminality" of the Trump administration. "When will you call the president on this?" he asked Lance. Lance, a mild-mannered 64-year-old, is one of many Republicans who are feeling voter heat over Trump and are vulnerable to a challenge in next year's congressional elections. Democrats hope to make the 2018 mid-term elections a referendum on Trump. Any path they have for capturing the House of Representatives runs through areas such as Lance's, one of the Republican districts that voted for Democrat Hillary Clinton in the 2016 presidential election. In Lance's district, anger has risen over proposed cuts to social programs, Republican efforts to roll back Obamacare, President Barack Obama's healthcare overhaul, and allegations of collusion between Trump's campaign and Russia, despite the president's denial of any such contacts. At the Cranford town hall, the congressman made clear he has differences with Trump on issues such as the budget and a special counsel investigation into any links between Trump's campaign and Russian officials. While Trump has called the

Susan Cornwell 6/2/2017

CLICK AND TURN THE PAGE

Orient using compass

Orient using compass

- ▶ The compass let you share the current article on four important social media sites.
- ▶ In the north you have Facebook, in south you have Reddit, in east you have Twitter and in west you have Google+.
- ▶ That compass mix the old style of the newspaper with the current trend of online social media and allow you to be always connected with everything that happens.

